COURSE DESCRIPTION
This course explores the idea that the “arts are powerful” in peacebuilding and hold potential for enhancing our peacebuilding work. How are arts-based efforts creating works of meaning, beauty and imagination while also contributing to the challenges of building peace and justice? In this experiential learning process, participants will also engage in skills practice and, more importantly, draw from their learning and experience to propose initiatives relevant to their community or other settings.

OBJECTIVES
After successful completion of this course students should have:
- Warmed up to and celebrated their innate creative richness within a framework of diverse artistic expression;
- Deepened their theory in arts-based approaches to building peace and justice;
- Explored and enhanced their skills in the use of creative approaches in building just and inclusive communities; and
- Proposed arts-based projects or interventions relevant to their contexts.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOKS
*It is the participant’s responsibility to order texts online, as e-books or from local book-sellers ahead of time.

Books

Required Journals
*Journal articles/chapters will be sent to registered participants as pdfs.
Benjamin, Robert D. “The Mediator as Trickster: The Folkloric Figure as Professional Role Model” in Mediation Quarterly, Winter 1995.

Supplementary reading

not required but may be used for doing assignments or for personal interest

TEACHING APPROACH

This is an interactive and experiential course. The learning methodology will, therefore, integrate mini-lectures, games, exercises, role plays, image theatre, movement, storytelling, practical experimentation, case studies, and small group projects. Students will be expected to participate in class activities and creative processes, as well as keep up with readings.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS AND DEADLINES (for credit)

The following are the general outlines of requirements for those taking the class for credit. Others are encouraged to read as much as possible, however, in order to receive maximum benefit from the course. Assignments can be submitted in person during the course or via email to the instructor.

ASSIGNMENT DESCRIPTION

1. Inception Reflection Paper
   - Reflect on two questions: What comes to mind when you hear the phrase the “arts are a powerful tool for social change?” And, do you consider yourself an artist? Why or why not? Draw from experiences in your own context and from some of the required texts for the class.
   - Length: maximum: 5-page essay, 1.5 spaced, 12-point font
   - Due: June 18, 2018

2. Participation: You are expected to engage actively in games, exercises, role plays and other activities.

3. Class presentation on hypothetical project or reflection on applying course learnings to life
   - Based on course readings and inputs, create a 5-minute class presentation outlining a hypothetical project to which you could apply the learnings of the course or propose ways in which you could apply class learning in your life or context. Class participants will have an opportunity to interact with your presentation. The first draft of the proposal will be presented in class and students may submit the draft or make revisions and submit later.
   - Length: maximum: 3-page essay, 1.5 spaced, 12-point font
   - Due: July 22, 2018

4. Research/Reflection paper.
   - The Reflection/Research Paper offers the student the opportunity to creatively engage with the learning and the literature as well as explore creative processes relevant to their context. The paper should combine a critical appreciation of the new knowledge and skills with original thinking on arts-based approaches that could result in constructive social change in one’s own context. In particular, the paper should reflect on the key assertions, issues, questions in the resurgent field of peacebuilding and the arts and, more importantly, how the learning from the literature and the class can be applied in one’s context.
   - Length: 10-12 page essay, 1.5 spaced, 12-point font
   - Due: August 15, 2018
ASSIGNMENT GUIDELINES (for credit)

STYLISTIC REQUIREMENTS
CMU has adopted the following as its standard guide for all academic writing:

The final paper should follow an accepted academic format for citations, bibliography, etc. (e.g. APA, Chicago, MLA). You may choose the format but whichever you use, be sure to use it properly and consistently.

ADDITIONAL NOTES
1. All material referred to in any assignment MUST be appropriately referenced. Plagiarism is a serious matter. Students should be aware of CMU Academic Policies, particularly those regarding academic misconduct (plagiarism and cheating), which apply to all University courses. These are detailed on CMU’s website (http://www.cmu.ca/students.php?s=registrar&p=policies) and in the CMU Calendar (also available online: http://www.cmu.ca/academics.php?s=calendar). In your papers, be sure to avoid any form of plagiarism. If you have doubts about what is appropriate, a useful website is http://www.indiana.edu/~istd/. Plagiarism is a serious issue and will result in grade reduction or action by the university (see university policy on this).
2. Assignments are due as scheduled. Assignments will be assessed a four percent (4%) late penalty per day until they are submitted. I will not accept assignments more than two weeks late except in cases of verifiable medical or family emergency.
3. I encourage all students to take up any concerns/questions regarding grades, first with the instructor, then with the Associate Dean of Program, Ray Vander Zaag. The CMU Calendar outlines its appeals process clearly.
4. Email: Substantive discussions are best done person to person, not electronically. So email can be used to set up personal appointments, to send regrets if one has to miss class, and so on, but not for engaging in substantive discussions.

EVALUATION
In general, I expect you to follow the guidelines of the assignment and to discuss deviations from them with me before turning it in. In evaluating your work, quality is more important than quantity. I appreciate creativity, clear expression of ideas, evidence of engagement with the reading and class sessions, and projects that are of real interest and value to you.

Good communication skills are essential for justice and peacebuilding work. Students will be expected to communicate knowledgeably, clearly, effectively, concisely and persuasively. All written work should be well informed, well organized and well documented.

Each completed assignment will be given a numerical grade (according to its value toward the final grade) and the corresponding letter grade. The final mark for each student is determined by the sum total of all numerical grades, which is then assigned a letter grade according to the scale below.

| LETTER GRADE/PERCENTAGE SCALE |
|---------------------------|--|--------|-----------|
| Letter Grade | Percentage | Grade Points | Descriptor |
| A+           | 95-100     | 4.5       | Exceptional |
| A            | 88-94      | 4         | Excellent  |
Criteria | A - Excellent | B - Competent | C - Below Expectations |
---|---|---|---|
CONTENT (quality of the information/ideas and sources/details used to support them) | - has clarity of purpose
- has depth of content
- displays insight or originality of thought
- demonstrates quality and breadth of resources | - has clarity of purpose
- has substantial information and sufficient support
- contains some originality of thought
- uses quality resources | - has clarity of purpose
- lacks depth of content and may depend on generalities or the commonplace
- has little originality of thought
- uses mostly quality resources |
STRUCTURE (logical order or sequence of the writing) | - is coherent and logically developed
- uses very effective transitions | - is coherent and logically developed
- uses smooth transitions | - is coherent and logically (but not fully) developed
- has some awkward transitions |
CONVENTIONS (appearance of the writing: sentence structure, usage, mechanics, documentation) | - has virtually no errors of conventions | - has minimal errors of conventions | - is understandable but has noticeable problems of sentence structure, usage, mechanics or documentation |
STYLE (personality of the writing: word choice, sentence variety, voice, attention to audience) | - is concise, eloquent and rhetorically effective
- has nicely varied sentence structure
- is engaging throughout and enjoyable to read | - displays concern for careful expression
- has some variation in sentence structure
- is generally enjoyable to read | - has some personality but lacks imagination and may be stilted and may rely on clichés
- has little variation in sentence structure
- is not very interesting to read |

NOTE: The CMU Student Handbook is a useful guide for further information on CMU policies regarding grades, academic misconduct, and appeals. Grades are not final until vetted and approved by the Dean’s Office.

FINAL DATE FOR WITHDRAWAL
Final date to withdraw from this course without academic penalty is July 15, 2018.
If a student is unable to complete the requirements of a course by the end of the semester, the student must submit a written appeal for an “incomplete” to the Registrar’s office: spenner@cmu.ca. The student should seek the instructor’s support for the appeal and submit the appeal before August 21. If the student’s appeal is granted, the instructor will enter a grade of I (for incomplete) accompanied by a temporary grade (which is based on completed work and assigns a value of zero for uncompleted work). Instructor grades are due by August 21st. If the student completes the remaining work within the extension period, the grade will be recalculated and the incomplete status will be removed. If the student does not complete the work within the extension period, the incomplete status will be removed and the grade will remain as originally entered. The maximum extension is: December 1, for courses ending in August.
SCHEDULE, TOPICS & READINGS

*This schedule, along with assigned readings, may be adjusted slightly in response to pace of the learning process and other scheduling issues. The instructor will provide advance notice of any changes.

The textbooks will provide a basis for each day’s discussions and should be read ahead of the course. Journal article reading will be specified by day.
